The Air Force has a well established IG Complaints Program, which is described in AFI 90-301. You may make your complaint at any level in the IG system.

Air Force military and civilian members have a duty to promptly report fraud, waste and abuse; gross mismanagement; a violation of law, policy, procedures, or regulations; and injustice, abuse of authority; inappropriate conduct, or misconduct; substantial and/or specific danger to public health or safety; and a deficiency or like condition, to an appropriate supervisor, flight commander, first sergeant, commander; IG or another appropriate inspector, or through an established grievance channel. Your complaint must be submitted to the IG within 60 days of learning of the alleged wrong.

You are encouraged but not required to discuss your problem with your supervisor, flight commander, first sergeant, or squadron commander before coming to the IG. No one may take action against you just because you complained. If you believe someone has taken action against you because you complained, contact the IG immediately.

Some complaints must be referred to other agencies for resolution. Some examples are:
